BECKY HANZL—1958 Homecoming Queen

Float Contest, Dance Share Top Spotlight

A large crowd was present at the dance which climaxed the weekend of Homecoming entertainment. The fine attendance was typical of every event held during the weekend.

The attractive queen was crowned by Ed Rutch, president of the Student Council, during the intermission festivities. Miss Hanzl reigned with her court of attendants, Nancy Ackerman, Sally Ludlow, Joan Ramage and Ann Marie Sneeringer.

Another feature of the intermission program was the presentation of cups to the winners of the Float parade contest held on Friday afternoon. In the fraternity division there was a tie between the Delta Tau Delta and the Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternities.

The sorority division was won by the Kappa Kappa Gammas. The independent first place trophy was awarded to the Newman club. Runner-up in the fraternity division was Pi Kappa Alpha. In the sorority division the second place was awarded to the Chi Omega sorority. Third place went to Alpha Epsilon Phi.

The Engineer's Council took the second place award in the independent division. The third place in the fraternity competition was another tie. This one was between the Acacia and the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternities.

Miss Hanzl, a member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, was the nominee of the Engineer's council. Miss Ackerman was selected by Alpha Epsilon Phi, Miss Ludlow by the Student Bar Association, Miss Ramage by Theta Tau and Miss Sneeringer by Sigma Tau.

under way on Friday afternoon with the float parade. The judges for that competition were: Washington Cleveland, Elsie Green, Jane Lingo, Dean William Turner, Professor Wilson E. Schmidt and Professor Robert Willson.

Float Parade

According to Homecoming co-chairman, Ed Creel there was a bigger turnout than ever before in all divisions of the Homecoming program.

The Friday evening program included a pep rally, presentation of the queen contestants and finalists, and presentation of the Colonial football team. The identity of the Colonial mascots George and Martha was also revealed. Marby Adams, Colonial Booster chairman, unmasked the pair. George was identified as Hal Bergen and Martha proved to be Anne Bittner.

The big highlight of the evening was the University Players production of the musical comedy "Guys and Dolls." The group played to a full house.

Saturday began with a cavalcade of cars to the Navy-George Washington Homecoming football game at the Griffith Stadium. The Colonials played before a crowd of 15,000 which included an 1,800 man contingent of Midshipmen. The Colonials battled the strong Navy team on a mud soaked gridiron but lost the contest 28-8.

The Homecoming program was planned this year by co-chairman Ed Creel and Pepita Lasalle.

Literary Publication Bids For Recognition

• AN EDITORIAL BOARD has been formed to promote the publication of a University literary magazine.

The board, made up of members of the Writers club, the Cultural Committee of the Student Council, and other interested students, is in the process of writing a constitution and finding a faculty sponsor.

According to Anne Marie Sheeringer, chairman of the Council's Cultural Committee, "the magazine would serve as an organ for student expression through the media of prose, poetry and graphic art." Miss Sneeringer emphasized that although the magazine had not received recognition from the Student Council and Student Life Committee, all contributions will be accepted and reviewed by the editors now. Any contributions should be left in the Student Union manager's office.

Eligible Material

Eligible material, she continued, includes any original student composition meeting the following qualifications: (1) Prose: short stories, varying from the short, short story to a maximum of 3000 words; essays, humorous sketches, critical reviews, topical discussions, and literary translations up to 3000 words. (2) Poetry—any form. (3) Graphic art—any form. (4) Submitted material should include the author's name, address and phone number.

Any editorial improvements, she added, will be made only with the consent of the author. All material will remain the property of the author, and unused manuscripts will be returned.

The University Writers club plans to function as a kind of workshop rendering any necessary assistance with composition for publication, and faculty members are urged to submit meritable student material, she concluded.

Anyone interested in working on the magazine staff can contact Mrs. Tove Neville, editor-in-chief.

Minutemen Require Aid

• PETITIONING FOR Student Liaison Committee co-chairmen is being extended for another two weeks.

According to Student Council president, Ed Rutch, very few petitions have been received to supply what he terms an essential need in campus life.

This need has made itself acute, he feels, because the scope of Liaison committee activities has increased. The increase is centered on a Student Council program of Colonial minute man tours.

These tours would aid relationships with high school students who visit the University with a possible view of enrolling here. The program, which would come under Liaison planning and execution, would aid the University's counselling division in supplying visiting high school students with a true picture of campus and academic life at the University.

The Counseling division does a great deal of work along these lines but the Student Council believes that stronger relations could be developed between students of high school and college simply because of their bond as students.

The three basic functions of the Liaison Committee in regarding the new program would be 1) to conduct a program of activities for high school students, 2) to develop student-to-student interest and 3) to be ready at minute's notice to conduct tours of the University

About forty people are expected to enter this year's contest. The contestants must enter their preliminary drafts by January 5. They will then be edited by the Law Review editors and returned to the competitors for final drafting. The completed notes will have to be returned by February 9.

A case note is a short analysis of a single legal issue in a recent law case. Any law student having completed ten semesters as of September, 1958 may enter. Contestants may choose from a list of fifteen cases.

Faculty Club Aids Trustees

• THE FACULTY CLUB created a five-man committee last week to aid the Board of Trustees in selecting a new University president.

The Committee was formed by the club upon hearing a recommendation from the chairman of one of its temporary committees.

Although the charter of the University leaves the ultimate decision in the hands of the Board of Trustees, they asked the advisory group to work closely with them.

Aim

The aim of the advisory body is two-fold. The first is to set up a list of qualifications which would be desirable in a University president, and the second is to receive specific suggestions and information concerning persons who should be considered for the position.

The members of the committee are Professor David B. Weaver, of the law school; Dr. Bylan Blades, professor of surgery; Dr. Wood Gray, professor of American history; Dr. Charles R. Nazar, professor of chemistry and Dr. Charles W. Cole, professor of American literature.

Campus Combo Ends Record-Breaking Sale

Their report was based on a total sales figure of 903, as yet unofficial because final tabulations are incomplete. Last year 744 students bought Combos.

Of the total buyers, 622 were independent students and 281 were fraternity and sorority members. Mr. Zipern said he was "very disappointed" in the Greek turn-out.

He went on to explain, however, that the bulk of Combo sales took place during registration, before any new students had pledged fraternities and sororities and the major part of Combo promotion was aimed at freshmen.

Receipts

Total Campus Combo receipts were $9346.05, also an unofficial but nearly accurate figure, Mr. Reichgut said.

The largest part of the money will go to the Cherry Tree, he reported. The yearbook is slated to receive $4289.25.

Homecoming weekend will get a $2302.65 allotment. Drama productions will receive $903.00 Both Colonial Boosters and the annual modern dance concert will receive $451.50.

Colonial Cruise will get $667.25.

The remaining funds, $270.90, cover Combo operating expenses.

Student Council president Ed Rutsch praised both co-chairmen for their record-breaking Combo sales drive.

The Combo was introduced on Campus in 1954. This year's discount booklet sold for $10.35 and included tickets to all events and features which benefited from sales receipts.

Minutemen

• THE STUDENT LIAISON Committee of this University is a very poorly supported organization. Petitioning is now open for the co-chairmanships of the committee. We are sorry to say that a very small representative part of the student body has applied for the positions.

The Liaison Committee is a basic need of the University. It serves as the only student to student contact between University and high school students, and is extremely influential in building up the enrollment of the University.

A fraternity man works for his fraternity. The fraternities work for a better Greek system, while the ultimate goal of the Greek system is to improve the University. This co-chairmanship is the golden opportunity for any student to aid his organization and his University.

The Committee needs a great deal more support by full-time day students than it is receiving in order to fulfill its purpose, which is to conduct a program of activities for high school students, to promote student to student contact and to be ready at short notice to conduct tours for high school students.

The members of the Liaison Committee are being called "Minute Men" after that famous component of the Colonial army who were ready to take up arms at a minute's notice.

The Council has recognized the tremendous efforts of the Liaison Committee and is presenting its members with a small badge portraying the "Minute Men" of the past.

We would like to urge every student to take an active interest in this Committee, the very basis of our University.

Huge Success!

• WE WOULD LIKE to congratulate the co-chairmen and members of the committee who worked to make the 1958 Homecoming such a success. We feel that this year's dance was one of the finest ever to be held at the University.

The manner in which the reservation of tables was handled left no room for mistakes or misunderstandings. The lamp-post signs made it quite easy to find the proper tables.

We would also like to commend the committee on the band arrangement. The luxury of having continuous music made it well worth any extra funds that may have been spent to make it possible. The Fred Perry and Jack Morton bands alternated very effectively in their choice of music, as was shown by the constant number of couples found on the dance floor.

Even though the program was presented late in the evening it went very smoothly. The tappings for ODK and Gate and Key were well handled.

The crowning of the Homecoming queen was, as always, the climax of the evening, and the 1958 queen is truly representative of George Washington University. We were sorry that the crowning could not have been a little more effectively planned.

The entire Homecoming program was well attended. Lisner auditorium was filled to capacity very shortly after the beginning of the pep rally Friday evening. The presentation of "Guys and Dolls" by the University players received tremendous ovations by the members of the faculty and student body in attendance.

The Saturday afternoon game against Navy was played with as much enthusiasm as has ever been displayed by the Colonial team. Spirits ran high among those in attendance and the cheerleaders found quick response for every cheer.

The alumni also showed up "en masse." The buffet dinner held in their honor Friday evening was well attended. The efforts to increase alumni support of the University appear to have been very successful this year.

The alumni were also honored at reception Saturday afternoon and at the Fraternity open houses following the game. We were very pleased at the number of alumni who attended the dance Saturday evening.

We feel that this weekend was one of the most avidly supported programs ever presented by the University, and we hope that this support will continue with future functions.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Damon Runyon Musical Scores Smash Success

by Betsy Evans

• SOMEONE SAID THERE were seven curtain calls. Most of us were too busy applauding to count.

The University Players' production of Guys and Dolls last Friday night was the brightest, bounciest, gayest campus dramatic event in years—perhaps ever.

In fact, the only really unfortunate things about the show were that Lisner auditorium wasn't big enough to hold the mammoth Homecoming crowd that flocked to see it, and that it could be publicly presented only once.

The laughs started the moment the curtain rose on a hectic, happy panorama of the midtown Manhattan streets immortalized by New York journalist and fable-spinner Damon Runyon.

They reached a brilliant peak when, seventeen songs and nearly three hours later, careworn craps shooter Nathan Detroit presented a weary collection of his fellows to a Salvation Army prayer meeting leader with an ingenious, "Brother Abernathy, your dice."

However, despite the uproarious flavor of the script—written by Abe Burrows and Jo Swerling—the real hero of "Guys and Dolls" will always be lyricist-composer Frank Loesser. Never was such raffish charm, such lovable lawlessness, such hardboiled tenderness so well captured in music.

Appropriately, it was in singing that romantic leads Pat Randall and Chuck Johnson were at their best. Whenever the orchestra sounded an introductory chord, all traces of self-consciousness were swept away and both audience and singer were caught up in the Loesser magic.

Miss Randall was charming as Sarah Brown, the Salvation Army sergeant who falls in love with a big time gambler, and Mr. Johnson was an amiable, if slightly collegiate, Sky Masterson.

Particularly memorable were their two duets, "I'll Know When My Love Comes Along" and "I've Never Been in Love Before." Miss Randall's lovely "If I were a Bell" and Mr. Johnson's exciting "Luck, Be a Lady Tonight."

In lively contrast to their whirlwind courtship and marriage was the 14-year engagement of Detroit and his night club singer sweetheart, Miss Adelaide.

As Detroit, harassed promoter of a venerable floating crap game, Vince Mortorano carried a major portion of the comedy. His characterization was broad and hilarious, and his timing was practically perfect.

Sally Herrington was sheer delight as the adde-pated Adelaide. Her famous "Lament" ("A person can develop a cold") was a show-stopper. Equally sparkling were her floor show numbers "A Bushel and a Peck" and "Take Back Your Mink."

The Hot Box chorus girls who backed up her night club act were as polished and harmonious as they were curvaceous.

The men's chorus, too, outdid itself. A colorful, ingratiating collection of horse-players, craps-shooters and streetcorner rogues, they exhibited, from their opening hymn to "The Oldest Established Permanent Floating Crap Game in New York" to their closing admonition to "Follow the Fold and Stray No More," a kind of heart-warming skulduggery and disarming delinquency at once wayward and wonderful, perverse and pure.

Chief among them was Detroit's errant sidekick, Nicely-Nicely Johnson. Paul Frank, garbed in an unforgettable orange plaid suit, gave a new and uproarious twist to the classic Stubby Kaye role.

Dancing played a primary part in maintaining the Runyon flavor of the musical. The opening kaleidoscope of Times Square, and its twin finale, were surpassed only by a brilliant Havana night club scene, which starred Joan Talbert and Dick Bushy. Choreography was by Elizabeth Burtner and Gay Chenel.

Probably to director Morgan James goes most of the credit for the happy success of "Guys and Dolls." To his work must be attributed the essential energy and effervescence of the production, the rapidity of pace and sensitivity of timing.

Choral director Bob Block must also have had a hand in the quality of the show. In addition to chorus and solo numbers already noted, the opening trio "Fugue for Tinkhorns" ("I got the horse right here") and the closing duet "Marry the Man Today" displayed accomplished direction as well as vocal excellence.

Certainly there were weaknesses in the production—a couple of stiffly played smaller roles, a flat note here and there—but somehow the droll and delightful flavor of Damon Runyon's toughs and tarts, the laughter and loveliness of Frank Loesser's music served to minimize all flaws.

For "Guys and Dolls" is indisputably one of the truly great Broadway musicals. It ran for three years in New York and two years on the road, 36 weeks in Chicago and 16 months in London. It topped "The King and I" to win the 1951 Drama Critics' award, and it became one of the most successful Hollywood productions of the decade.

In other words, the University Players had a lot to work with.

Jazz VII

Present Day Jazz Dates From '20's

By Mike Duberstein

• IF THERE IS one apparent weakness in jazz today, that weakness is the lack of new jazz voices who employ different from the existing forms of jazz.

Jazz today seems to have been influenced by just a number of musicians. Charley Parker for the alto saxophone, Lester Young for the tenor saxophone, Art Tatum for the piano—these men are the major influences on jazz today. But, all three styles of the above men came directly from the Thirties and did not change much from the original. So, in reality, what is called "contemporary" jazz is nothing more than jazz fathered over twenty years ago.

Of course, there are jazzmen who claim that their style is singular—but by scrutiny it can be discovered that "their style" is nothing more than a rehash of some other, and often not quite as well known, style.

However, there does seem to be period of transition going on within jazz. The musicians of this transition are producing music that is so strange to the ears that the music receives more condemnation than praise. But so have other transitional jazzmen of the past.

When, in the late Twenties, Ben Pollack and Paul Whiteman formed the prototypes of the great swing bands, Pollack and Whiteman were besieged by critics calling the new music form one of utter confusion and predicting its downfall in a matter of months. The same circumstances arose when Parker first came onto the scene in Kansas City in the mid-Thirties. Parker's brand of "soul" music remained a mystery to those who first heard it.

Typical of the transition in jazz today are tenor saxophonist Teo Macero and vibraphonists Teddy Charles and Bob Prince. These three musicians are all graduates of Julliard School of Music and are well versed in the technical aspects of jazz. Utilizing the methods of counterpoint, harmonic flux, polymetric rhythm, and atonal signatures, the trio produces music unlike any other jazz to date. At times it seems to be mathematical in conception and lacking any spirit, or "funk," but after listening to the music several times, the music takes on complete identification as jazz.

Macero, Charles and Prince are reaching for a new form of jazz. The sound may be strange and confusing, but someday their jazz might be accepted as is Miles Davis today.

DISK REVIEW

"The 'Shepherd' Swings Again" (Jubilee 1074) is a collection that seems to be aimed at the disk jockey trade, rather than to the die-hard jazz fan. Featuring flutist Moe Koffman, the album has some very good moments when the group gets going. One of these moments is the wailing "What Can You Do" when the sound is that of a fine polished group of jazzmen, and not that of the amateurism shown on side 1.

"Grooving at Small's Paradise, Vol. 1" (Blue Note 1585) is another of the organ-jazz dates by Jimmy Smith. This record is real jazz all the way, a fine tribute of Smith's ability to play such an un-jazzified instrument.

Still, what they did with it is something quite wonderful. It was a vigorous, warm-hearted, fresh and exciting production, and Homecoming weekend was much the richer for it.

• QUEEN BECKY!!!

Ah, that sounds beautiful. Congratulations, Becky! Becky is a product of a sorority known for their ability to raise Homecoming Queens—Kappa Kappa Gamma. She hails from New Jersey, and has been one of the best contributors to this column since her freshman antics over in the Freshman Club (now defunct) back in 1956-57. Don't mean to sound repetitious, but all good wishes, again, Queen Rebecca L.

Congratulations, too, to the four other lovely finalists—Nancy Ackerman, Sally Ludlow, Joan Ramage, and Ann Marie Sneeringer. All were representative of our fair university, and all were very deserving of this honor. While we're busy passing out laurels, let's mention Kappa Kappa Gamma, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Delta Tau Delta, and the Newman Club for their fine showings in the float contest. I really thought that Teke rocket was going to take right off. And, speaking about taking off... let's do!

Your old aunt has been around a long time, and I swear this is the greatest Homecoming Weekend I've ever seen. The parade was fantastic, and I couldn't have enjoyed the Navy game more if we had beat those swabbies by eight touchdowns. And congratulations to those two Sigma Nus who got the gun. Next year, gang, we'll get that goat.

While I had doubts last year (I'm cynical as a Puritan), I thought "Guys and Dolls" was the greatest. Sallie Herrington has just gained herself a new and ardent fan—your beloved aunt. But I thought all the cast was terrific and gave it their all. There was great enthusiasm at the Pep Rally before, and was I surprised when I found out who George and Martha were. Really, I had no idea (ahem)! But I thought it was very poor on the part of whoever stole the golden box with all the guesses in it.

The crowd at the game Saturday were in great spirits in more ways than one. In fact—the big three on the field—Hal Bergem (George), Bob Greenstein, and Marty Herman (boy yell leaders) were just about the most "spirited" trio I've ever seen. Too much pep, I guess. And once again, Martha (oh what the devil, I can call her by the real thing now)—Anne Bittner—were those sexy red socks that she's been pleasing the crowds with all season.

Well, let's get on with the dance and the parties, before and after.

Friday, the cast of "Guys and Dolls" packed the Phi Sig house. Some of the party-goers who celebrated the fine performance were Sallie "Adelaide" Herrington, Chuck "Sky" Johnson, Pat "Sarah" Randall, Vince "Nathan" Mortorano, Tom "Big Julie" Huestis, and Phi Sigs "Rusty" Rick Orlando, Ray Holt, Mike Taylor, Pablo Hernandez, John Arguelles, Dick Ross, and Producer Ed Ferrero. The house almost shook off its foundation when the jubilant members of the cast danced the "Horra" to some wild Russian gypsy music.

Having Homecoming breakfast at the Sigma Nu House were Jay Stoutenburgh and ADPI Sandy Robertson, Ken Callaway and SN Homecoming candidate Carol Tomey, Ralph Beach and Linda Kugle, Robin Rich and ADPI Linda Fryor, Marcel and Bill Bedford, George and Lou Cook, and many other Sigma Nus and daces. At the dance, there was an announcement that John Harrison and Sharon Ronnigen were engaged; well, they didn't go that far, but they really were pinned. The Phi Alphas started their Homecoming Friday night with a rousing blast. Seen were George Orlove and his "New Dimension in Girls" from the Super, Giant, Alum Paul Garner and AEPH: Sandy Carlin, Joe Byron—and faithful Gem Leor, Warner Wolf and his A. U. Senorita—Camilla, Dick Beyda and Teenie Podrog, Ronnie and Phyllis West, and Dumpty White and Phi Alpha Sweetheart—Mildred Shapiro.

The Tekes celebrated their first place tie with Delta in the float contest with champagne at the dance. Don West and Paul Chasey, master builders of the rocket, and dates ZTA Shirley Sanders and "Little One" led the sipping. Meanwhile, over at the Phi Sig House—after returning home from the game, through a cocktail party, and then went to the dance. Brother Lou Van Blois announced his pinning to Chi O Ginger Thomas. Some of his over-enthusiastic well-wishers were Don Pavony and Pi Phi Pepita LaSalle, Hain Swope and ADPI Jerrienne Parlin, and recent Gate and Key Initiates Bob Figley and Dan Kosok.

Several AEPH celebrated post-Homecoming as HATCHET Editor Bob Lipman's hosting with pinmate Adrienne Epstein. Homecoming bloopers seemed to be the thing. Seen there were Stan Heckman and Evie Celler, Roy Du Brow and AEPH Jan Ginberg,

George & Martha Reveal Identities

By Wright Horne

• DURING THE PEP Rally before Guy and Dolls last Friday night, the somewhat questionable secret identities of George and Martha Washington were revealed. The Colonials' mascots were found to be Hal Bergem and Ann Bittner. There had been a contest for the naming of their identities, and originally the winner of this contest was to have unmasked them on the stage. Unfortunately, someone absconded with the ballot box and so Marby Adams, Colonial Boosters Chairman, had to disclose the duo.

Each year, for the last ten years the Chairman of the Colonial Boosters selects the famous pair from separate petitions entering by competing students. Ann, a Senior, had this to say: "It was quite a surprise to find out at the beginning of the year that Hal and myself were to be the two figureheads. We've been great friends since our first year French class. We made life miserable for Dr. Protzman, but we've had a ball since then." Ann, a native of Indiana now living in Maryland, is an Elementary Education Major, a recent Homecoming Queen candidate, a Cherry Tree Editor, a Hatchet reporter, in SNEA, and Secretary of D. C. and the Luther Club.

Hal is Vice-President of Sigma Chi fraternity, Secretary of Old Men, Colonial Cruise Co-Chairman, former Assistant Advocate of the Student Council, on the Hatchet staff, and on the Board of Governors of the Order of Scarlet. In reference to their second life, Hal said after the unmasking that "anyone who was at Brownley's last Monday night would have gotten quite a clue. We were there for three hours, and when we left we were in no better shape than when we left the field Saturday after the Navy game. But as Martha and George or as Ann and Hal, we've had great times together for four years."

Mel Feldman and Lynn Robinson, Martin "Luther" Herman and Sydney Epstein, Bob Greenstein and Phyllis, Milt Michaelis and Sheila Sidenburg, and Aaron Knott and Rhoda Ezrin. By the way, it was revealed that Rhoda can't make coffee or hot chocolate—in fact she can't even boil water.

The Sigma Chis were swarmed with surprise announcement at the Homecoming Ball. Most shocking of all, of course, was the announcement of the birth of Hal Bergem's son, Wright. Then there was the pinning of new Gate and Key initiate Bill Fearer and Henry Etta Busky, the engagement of Don Cavanaugh and Linda De Vicchio, and (at long last, the secret is out) the engagement of Sig advisor—Chet McCall, Stat pro. Carol Noonan. After the ball, the Sigs converged on a little establishment out in the North West section of town where host Bryan Williams and date Betty O'Horo were treating everyone to a great breakfast.

Not too many contributions, this week. I wish you could have gotten something in—but, what the heck, I'm still seeing spots—egad, what a blowout. But, another week-end coming-up, so let's get in shape. Open up now, down the hatch! Ah, that V-O.

THE CLOTHES YOU SAVE MAY BE YOUR OWN

In this column we take up fashions for college men, which means of course, the Ivy Look. Today's Ivy Look clothes have made a great stride forward. Not only do they have thin lapels, three buttons, narrow trousers, and a minimum of shoulder padding, but—now hear this!—this year they are actually covered with ivy!

This new development, while attractive beyond the singing of it, nevertheless gives rise to certain hazards. For instance, people keep trying to plant you on Arbor Day. Indeed, this is precisely what happened to two SAE's of my acquaintance, Walter R. Gurlash and Fred Rasp. Before they could protest, they were spatched up, planted, limed, and watered, and today they support a hammock in Cut and Shoot, Vermont.

Let us now discuss shirts. Again this year the campus favorite is the good old Oxford with button-down collar and barrel cuffs. This is without doubt an admirable garment, but let me ask you a question: if you don't wear anything but Oxfords, what do you do with all the cuff links people have been giving you for your birthday since you were twelve years old?

Well sir, some fellows have their wrists pierced, but what E. Mackenzie Sigafoos, a Chi Psi of my acquaintance, did was to take a dozen pairs of his handsome gold monogrammed cuff links and string them together in a charm bracelet for his girl, Jo-Carol Isobar.

(It turned out, incidentally, to be a mistake. In short order so many admirers accrued to Jo-Carol on account of her gorgeous bracelet that she grew tired of plain old E. Mackenzie, and one night when she was seated on a bench in Lovers Lane throwing sticks for E. Mackenzie to retrieve, she suddenly, cruelly, without warning, told him they were through.

"I am heartbroken," said E. Mackenzie, heartbroken. "But if you must, give me back my charm bracelet."

"No, I will keep it," said Jo-Carol.

"What for?" said E. Mackenzie. "You can't wear it. The initials on the cuff links are all mine—E.M.S."

"Ha, ha, the joke is on you," said Jo-Carol. "Yesterday I was voted Miss Chinese Restaurant of 1958."

"So?" said E. Mackenzie.

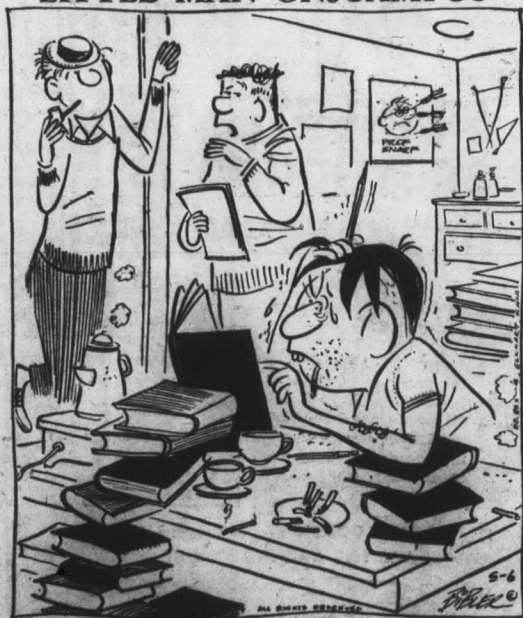

"So," replied Jo-Carol, "E.M.S. does not stand for E. Mackenzie Sigafoos. It stands for Eat More Subgum!"

A broken man, E. Mackenzie today squeezes out a meagre living as a pendulum in Cleveland. Jo-Carol was killed in a tong war.)

But I digress. We were talking about well-dressed men, and the one essential for every well-dressed man—and every well-dressed woman too—is a well-dressed cigarette—neat, compact, flavorful, and correct for work or play, sunshine or shower, repose or revelry, darkness or light. And where does one find such a perfect companion? Just go to any tobacco counter and ask for Philip Morris. Ask for it in long size or regular. Ask for it in soft pack or hard. But ask for it; that's the important thing. Don't just stand there making cryptic gestures at your tobaccoist. He may be armed.

KKG Wins Event; Ties ISAB Race

● KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA sorority won the I.S.A.B. volleyball tournament last Wednesday night. Led by Judy Jaudon, Sue Kinne- man Carol Briggs, the Kappas de- feated Delta Gamma 45-12 in the final game.

The KG's gained in the finals by defeating Zeta Tau Alpha, 47-9. In the closest game of the evening DG nosed out Kappa Delta, 29-28, and went on to defeat Phi Sigma Sigma, 22-18, to enter the final round. The defending champions, Pi Beta Phi, did not play this year.

The KG's are now tied with PBPhi in points for the I.S.A.B. trophy. Last week Pi Phi won the Double Tennis Tournament for the fourth straight year. Once again Bonnie Borden, a former member of the Women's Tennis Team, led the Pi Phi's to victory.

The remaining I.S.A.B. tournament schedule is as follows: Thursday, Dec. 4, Bridge; Thursday, Jan. 8, Bowling; Thursday, March 12, Badminton; Thursday, March 19, Table Tennis; and Thursday, May 7, Golf. The swimming meet will be held in April, but the date has not yet been announced.

HATCHET Predicts Intramural Winners

● AS FOOTBALL INTRAMURALS moves into the final week the situation in the A leagues is as cloudy as ever. League A2 finds two strong undefeated teams meeting to decide the title. In the A1 league the Med. School is the only undefeated team in the league, but it still has to overcome a powerful Pi Kappa Alpha squad in order to maintain its unbeaten record. The Pikes have a great incentive to beat the Doctors, for if they win the league will be thrown into a three-way tie between the Med. School, PiKA, and J. Q. Adams. J. Q. Adams handed PiKA its only defeat two weeks ago as they squeaked-by on first downs.

This Sunday unbeaten Delta Tau Delta will meet the unbeaten Moonlighters to decide the A2 league Championship and to win a spot in the finals for the All-University Championship.

Delt's Favored

Although the Moonlighters have a flashy passing attack, it is the opinion of this column that the Delts strong defense and good offense will turn the tide in their favor. The passing combination of Delt Jerry Cornelius to Henry Mayo is one of the most potent in the league, and if Mayo is covered Cornelius can always find a target in Bill Medina or Bill Ward. Mayo is also one of the best pass defenders around these days and ought to be able to slow down the Moonlighters Charley Sampson and Steve Chase.

However, the Moonlighter line is excellent both on offense and defense. If the line continues to give outstanding protection the Moonlighter backs may be able to come up with an effective offense and pull the game out of the fire.

Both PiKA and the Medical School have a lot at stake in Sunday's game in the A1 league. If the Doctors can take this one they will win the A1 title and a place opposite the winner of the DTD-Moonlighter game in the finals for the All-University Championship. On the other hand, if PiKA can defeat the Med. School they will throw their league into a three-way tie for first place.

Two weeks ago the Pikes lost a very close game to J. Q. Adams on first downs. Last week J. Q. Adams was nosed out by the Med. School in another close match. If the Med. School loses Sunday's game, each of the three teams will have a 4-1 record and will be tied for first place.

PiKA is usually a strong team.

If the league A2 is thrown into a three-way tie intramural football would have to run two extra weeks while the title for the league would be decided.

over. The Colonials threatened again in the second period when Duane Whitstone intercepted a pass on the Navy 26. The Colonials moved the ball to the 15 only to be stopped.

Buff Fumble

In the third quarter the Buff drove to the Navy 23 only to fumble the ball away. And in the last period a high pass from center gave the Colonials a first down on the Navy 9. Once again the Middies defense rose to the occasion and prevented the touchdown.

The famed Navy backs were undoubtedly surprised by the Colonial showing. A great deal of credit goes to line stalwarts Pete

Ed Hino

Ed Hino was a key figure in the fine Colonial showing. Hino completed seven out of 16 passes for a total of 85 yards. Don Herman led the Buff on the receiving end with three catches for 47 yards.

Colna scored the lone Buff TD. He also intercepted a Navy pass and put in several fine runs. John Wilt led in the running department with an average of 4.2 yards on 11 attempts.

The Colonials played inspired ball all the way, and the exciting result was a credit to them.

Delts, Moonlighters Win

Early in the third quarter the Moonlighters drove from their own 45-yard line to the end zone with Dilweg at the helm of the team. The attack was climaxed by a sparkling 35-yard play in which Dilweg rolled out to his strong right side. Encased by the superb protection given to him by his line, Dilweg launched a beautiful, long spiral to Charley Sampson who was cutting long down the left side lines toward the left coffin corner. Outstriding the rival backfield men, he took the ball on the ten-yard line and raced the final yards for a 6-0 lead for the Moonlighters. The try for the extra point was no good.

Lightning Strikes

Lightning struck the SAE team a second time in the third quarter. This time Bob Dilweg spotted George Bickerton down field. The game was split wide open as this play covered over fifty yards for the touchdown and a 12-0 score. Again the Moonlighters were unable to gain the extra point.

Pi Kappa Alpha made its one touchdown sufficient to defeat Sigma Chi. The defense of both teams was effective, but the PKA defense sparkled as it allowed the opposition not a single first down. In the first quarter, Al Schneider galloped furiously, a full forty yards for a score, the only score in the game. From that point both teams fought valiantly but vainly.

Doctors Win

In a clash between two undefeated A-2 League squads the Medical School eked out an 8-7 victory over the battling John Quincy Adams team. In the first quarter Adams' quarterback Dick Brown ran through a large hole up the middle for more than fifty yards and a touchdown. The try for the extra point was good and the Adams' team held a 7-0 lead.

As the offenses of both teams began clicking, penalties retarded the touchdown scoring potentials of each. Finally in the third quarter, the Med School quarterback grabbed a punt on his own 30-yard line and zig-zagged through the entire Adams' team for a touchdown. The try for the point after this electrifying 70-yard play was no good. But the doctors still gained an 8-7 lean by virtue of a safety which they were able to hold through the rest of the game.

AEPI Wins

Leading the way to a 25-0 victory over Tau Epsilon Phi, Alpha Epsilon Pi's quarterback, Rick Silas called an excellent game as he mixed passing and running attacks effectively. The AEPI line charged hard and proved excellent coverage for its runners. In its losing cause the TEP team did fight hard.

In other games Sigma Phi Epsilon lost to Phi Alpha Delta 19-16. TKE defeated Sigma Mu 6-0. AEPI B team walloped the P.K.A. B team 19-6. The Engineers crushed Acacia 15-0, and Theta Tau whitewashed the Delt B team 25-0.

Chessmen Score; Defeat NSA Team

• THE UNIVERSITY CHESS Team scored a decisive victory last Friday night over last year's league champions, the National Security Agency "A" Team, winning 4-2-1 on seven boards.

Victors for G. W. were Hans Berliner at first board, and Jan Galvins, Barney Schwalberg, and team captain Alexis Gilliland at the third, fourth, and sixth boards, respectively. Jack Mayer drew with R. Chauvenet at second, and Doug Kahn drew with W. Martin at fifth. NSA's anchor man, F. Austin, scored their sole win.

In their last match the Colonial team beat Arlington, which finished third in the league last year, 5-3. The chess team now has a 3-0 match score and a 14-8 game score with nine matches left to play.

Law Group Holds Contest

• THE SEMIFINALS of Case club competition in the Law School began yesterday and will last through tomorrow.

The four winning teams in quarter-final competition held earlier this month were Stan Harsh and Gene Russell, Len Thornton and Don Kohl, Evan Judd and Les Weinstein and Gordon Edwards and Nancy Provost.

Every spring the Case club holds preliminaries on an appellate argument. Final competition takes place in the fall. This gives the law students a chance to practice appellate argument and brief writing.

Sixteen students in teams of two took part in the quarter-finals. The teams were paired against each other. The case was argued before a three-judge tribunal consisting of local judges, practicing attorneys and Law School faculty.

The case being argued concerns a corporation's sponsorship of a television program for a senatorial candidate. A federal law prohibits this.

Colonials Press Navy; Submit 28-8 In Mud Before 15,000 Fans

by Stan Heckman

• THE DETERMINED G. W. eleven held a highly-favored Navy team to a 6-6 halftime tie only to lose 28-8 before 15,000 fans.

A muddy Griffith Stadium field was the scene of an exciting and surprising contest. The final score was hardly indicative of the well-played, hard-fought game.

The Colonials quickly showed that they were a team to be reckoned with. On the first Middle play of the game, Bob Frulla gobbled up a Tranchini fumble to put the Buff on the Navy 20. For the next three plays the Middies held the Colonials, but on fourth down quarterback Ed Hino threw successfully to Ted Colna in the end zone for a 22-yard scoring play. An attempted pass by Colna for the extra-point failed, but the tally marked the first time the Buff had scored against Navy and Colonial fans were not likely to forget it.

Navy Fumbles

The Middies quickly remembered who was favored, and on the next set of downs they drove to the G.W. 7 with the aid of a pass interference call on the Buff. But Navy field chief Joe Tranchini once again found the ball difficult to handle, and G.W. guard "Boots" Busky recovered a fumble to end the Middle drive.

Early in the second quarter the Middies placed themselves on the scoreboard. Speedy halfback Joe Bellino broke through right tackle and sprinted 34-yards for the tally. An unsuccessful run for the extra-point failed, and awed fans saw the halftime score at 6-6.

After a short halftime rest, the Middies appeared determined to put an end to the 29-point underdogs' uprising. Bellino carried the G.W. kickoff back 18-yards to the Navy 40. On third down Tranchini handed off to Joe Matalavage who scooted around left end to the Buff 31. Then Tranchini let loose a pass to John Kanuch on G.W.'s three, and Kanuch stumbled backwards into the end zone for the score. Bellino ran over for the two points.

Colonials Stopped

The Colonials were unable to move the ball in the third quarter, while Navy managed to add to its already winning lead. A 66-yard pass play from quarterback Jim Maxfield to speedy Pete Van Nort provided the final scoring of the third period.

Fumbles and penalties were numerous on the muddy field. The Colonials were penalized 40-yards on six calls, while the Middies were called back for 23-yards. The Middies were especially hurt by fumbles. Two fumbles in the first period paved the way for the Buff touchdown and halted a Navy attack on G.W.'s 7.

In the last period another Middle fumble, this time on Navy's 9, gave the Colonial's a perfect scoring opportunity. But four plunges into the hardened Navy line only got the ball to the one. The Middies took over but could not move the ball. Tranchini attempted a punt, but a high pass from center permitted the Buff to score a safety. This ended the G.W. scoring.

Navy Scores Again

Navy added a final tally in the last minutes of the game. Hino, gambling for another score, attempted a pass from his own 20 on fourth down and was thrown for a loss by a host of Middle linemen. Bob Correll ran ten yards to paydirt on first down to make the final score 28-8.

The Colonials played fired-up ball throughout, but lack of depth took its toll. The Buff gridders appeared tired, though determined, in the second half despite Coach "Bo" Sherman's effective substitutions.

The G.W. eleven were unable to capitalize on several excellent scoring opportunities. In the second quarter Ron DeMelfi blocked a Tranchini punt on the Navy 9. But two running plays and two incomplete passes did not move the pigskin, and the Middies took

Delts Overcome DTPhi Moonlighters Also Win

• IN TROUNCING DELTA Theta Phi 24-0 Sunday, Delta Tau Delta continued to build its undefeated record and moved closer to the title of the A-1 League.

The passing arm of Jerry Cornelius once more led the Delts to victory. In the first half Henry Mayo was his target.

With two minutes to go in the second quarter, Cornelius hit Mayo with a 40-yard heave, then with a seven-yard bullet. Two plays later, Mayo caught another Cornelius gem as he streaked to the right corner of the end zone. The pass for the extra point like the attempts for the extra points throughout the game was no good.

In the second half Cornelius was still slinging, and his aim was as good as in the first half. In the fourth quarter he found Bill Medina with a 30-yard heave for another TD. Marking one of the outstanding catches of the day, Medina leaped to grab the ball from two DTPhi defenders. Then eluding these safety men, Medina raced the final five yards to pay dirt.

Late in the final quarter, Cornelius spotted Bill Warden in the clear and hit him for a third touchdown and an 18-0 score.

Delts Score

With only two minutes left in the game Cornelius connected to Bill Lady on the 7 yard line. As the clock was ticking off the final seconds, Cornelius searched vainly for a man in the end zone. He faded back and to his left, reversed his field, spotted an opening on the right side, and galloped the final yards to the goal line and over it for the final score.

The Law School seemed to have

... COLONIAL HALFBACK Ted Colna is brought down by Navy's No. 48 in Saturday's game. Although it may not be noticeable, there was some mud on the field that afternoon, and Ted seems to have stepped in it up to his neck.

Colonial Closeups

by Bob Lipman

• ... I WONDER WHY the Colonials don't schedule more homecoming games? Because if last Saturday's game is any indication of how the Buff can get fired up and play football then every weekend should be termed "homecoming."

... It was quite a moral victory for Sherman and his boys. Highly touted Navy came into Griffith Stadium as a 29 point favorite and was lucky to leave with a one point victory. The Colonials put up a tremendous effort, but did not have the final spark that could have made the difference between a win and a loss.

... On a number of occasions the Buff threatened to deal the a good deal of spark, but its offense bogged down at the important moments. Its defensive play was rugged and sharp. However, mental lapses on the part of the deep men and the faking of the speedy Delt ends caused an unbalanced game.

German Connects

When the Delts were leading the DTPhi team just before the end of the first half, Everett German, the Law passer began hitting his men for short gains. Interspersing runs and passes he was guiding his team well. His receivers were cutting short with down and outers as well as with longer criss-crosses. However the half ended with the Law School still more than 30 yards from the touchdown territory.

The third quarter was marked with inaction rather than action. It ended with the Law School kicking to its own forty-yard line. Throughout the last quarter, the DTPhis were helpless as they attempted to push the pigskin beyond this point toward the Delt sector of the field. Repeatedly their passing attack failed. On fourth down the Lawyers would refuse to kick and futilely try to gain a first down through the air. As their attempts through the airways were stopped, the Lawyers merely handed the Delts the ellipsoid within striking distance of another six points.

Good Defense

The goose egg hung up for the Law School shows the superb defense of the Delts which thwarted each attempt for the long scoring play by their opposition.

Another undefeated team, the Moonlighters, who will play the Delts next Sunday, fought a grueling battle this week, but were able to triumph over the Sigma Alpha Epsilon squad 12-0. The hero in this game was the quarterback, Bob Diweg, who was able to throw the two touchdown passes to lead the Moonlighters to their victory.

experts a bitter blow by scoring several touchdowns, but each time penalties, Navy or the sloppy field stopped the Colonials cold. Navy, who was supposedly "warming up" for the Army game, was pushed all over the field by George Washington's forward wall — except when the Buff neared the goal line.

... As usual the field was sopping wet. It seems like the weatherman likes to keep G. W. in the dark, because it looked like a good old Friday night football game again. The unique idea of having a Saturday afternoon game under sunny skies was killed with the first gray clouds. The flood lights were put on in the third quarter to make the "evening" complete.

... The cheering from the George Washington stands was the best display of spirit that the campus has heard in years. The Colonials far outmatched Navy's "blueboys" in lung power. In fact, there was almost a contest going on called who could yell the loudest so that the opposite team could not hear its signals? Spirit was so high that a few adventurous souls tried to steal Navy's cannon. The highlight of the games festivities came when Buff rooters started singing "On brave old Army team" and George & Martha paraded past the Midshipmen with the Army song title on a sign post.

... The only sad factor in the game was the lack of adequate scoring power on the part of the Buff. Sherman's boys have been plagued by the scoring column all season—the nearer the goal line the tougher the going becomes.

... You can chalk Navy's last touchdown up to a gift. Ed Hino, figuring that the Colonials had to score, tried to make a first down, but was stopped and the Middies took over on the Buff ten yard line. They scored on the very first play. Hino called the play; it made no difference if the Buff didn't make the yardage, but a first down could have started a drive.

... G. W. has a 2-4 record with two games left to play. This weekend it's Wichita and the following week it's The Citadel. The Citadel is the hottest team in the Southern Conference, having won four of their last five and upsetting V.M.I. Wichita is fairly weak and the Buff should be favored. A .500 season could be within the realm of possibility.

... SINGING IN THE RAIN—and mud. No, this not a ballet to the god of rain, although it might have been a good idea in Saturday's game. G. W. lineman Boots Busky crashes over a Navy defender as he tries to block a Navy kick in the mud and slime of Griffith Stadium.
